

Krystal R. Commons

Associate

Krystal Commons is an associate at Williams & Connolly and focuses her practice on commercial and complex civil litigation, white collar defense and investigations, criminal defense, and employment matters. Krystal has represented corporations, professional firms, and individuals in a variety of business disputes. Krystal has experience in a range of substantive areas, including professional malpractice, antitrust matters, and securities litigation and has been a member of several trial teams.

Born and raised in northern Virginia, Krystal earned a B.A. in History, with high distinction, from the University of Virginia in 2009. In 2012, Krystal received her J.D. from Columbia Law School where she was a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar all three years. While in law school, Krystal served as a Staff Editor on the Columbia Journal of Race and Law and as a judicial extern for Judge Robert P. Patterson Jr. of the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York. Krystal worked at a major New York law firm before joining Williams & Connolly in 2015.

Krystal serves as a member of the firm's Hiring Committee, Women's Initiative, and the Partner-Associate Committee.

Resources

Presentations

- Krystal Commons Speaks on Panel at LegalDiversity & Talent Management Forum, February 2018

kcommons@wc.com

D 202-434-5493

Education

Columbia Law School, J.D., 2012:
Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar, 2009-2012; Staff Editor, Columbia Journal of Race and Law, 2010-2011

University of Virginia, B.A., with high distinction, 2009: University Achievement Award

Admissions

District of Columbia
New York

Government Service

Judicial Extern, Judge Robert P. Patterson, Jr., United States District Court, Southern District of New York