

Omid G. Bañuelos

Associate

Omid G. Bañuelos is an associate at Williams & Connolly and focuses his practice on complex commercial litigation and federal antitrust class actions, representing clients in federal and state courts. His clients span the consulting services and manufacturing industries.

Omid received his Juris Doctor from the Northwestern University School of Law, graduating with honors and serving on the leadership team of several student group organizations. He recently completed a secondment at the Prince George's County District Office of the Maryland Office of the Public Defender, where he first-chaired jury and bench trials in both the district and circuit courts. He is passionate about education and serves as a Trustee on the board of High Jump, a Chicago non-profit that prepares middle school students who are of limited economic means for rigorous college prep high schools. Omid also serves on the Emerging Leaders Council of the Legal Services Corporation. The Emerging Leaders Council is tasked with helping increase public awareness of the crisis in civil legal aid and the importance of providing equal access to justice to all low-income Americans.
