

Training & Development

Our new hire orientation and training programs provide new employees with an overview of firm resources, culture, history, and the legal services the firm offers.

Depending upon an individual's position within the firm, Williams & Connolly provides growth and learning opportunities through internal and external training programs. From new hires to existing employees, we give our staff the tools, training and encouragement they need to progress in their careers.