

Public Corruption

The firm often represents individuals and entities in public corruption investigations and prosecutions, involving allegations of bribery, illegal gratuities, honest service fraud and election law offenses. The firm has successfully represented clients during investigations, at trial, and on appeal. The firm has also had success resolving matters with the Federal Election Commission as well as state campaign finance authorities.