

Sometimes It Pays to Litigate Against The CFPB

October 2017

Ryan Scarborough, Rachel Rodman and Richard Olderman are the co-authors of “Sometimes It Pays to Litigate Against The CFPB,” published by Law360 on October 13, 2017. The article discusses why companies should not assume that settling cases will improve outcomes and explores recent examples for PHH Corporation, Intercept Corporation and Nationwide Biweekly Administration.