

SAVOY

Spring 2015 Issue

SAVOY 2015 MOST INFLUENTIAL BLACK LAWYERS

Alex G. Romain

Partner

Williams & Connolly LLP

Alex G. Romain is a Partner at Williams & Connolly LLP. Alex is a trial lawyer and has been a Partner since January 2007. Alex has had leading roles in several high-profile civil and criminal cases, including the successful defense of the late Senator Ted Stevens. The American Lawyer has described the firm's work in that case as "one of the best criminal defense performances in memory. . ."

Alex also successfully represented the former CEO of Fannie Mae against securities fraud claims, where the court awarded his client summary judgment on all counts.

Alex was named to The National Law Journal's "Appellate Hot List" in 2010. On a pro bono basis, he has represented individuals against allegations of attempted murder and fraudulent misappropriation.

Alex clerked for the late Judge Reginald Lindsay in the District Court for the District of Massachusetts and Judge Sandra Lynch, currently the Chief Judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the First Circuit.

Alex has served as pro bono counsel to the Sitar Arts Center and is a Board Member of the Duke Ellington School of the Arts.

Alex holds a Bachelor's from Yale and a Juris Doctor from the University of Michigan.